2017 - MARCH - FFF NEWSLETTER

Hello Fragrance Free Friends! It looks like Spring is trying very hard to 'Sproing' locally... patience my friends, it eventually will come (it always does;-). Remember, anticipation is the actual reward;-)

Well, it sure has been a busy time in the past 3 months since our December newsletter. We now have an organization in California that supports our efforts. We are also joined by new members from as far as France and North Carolina, USA! They are all just 'strong' reminders that we are not alone and have so many reasons to continue to pressure organizations, corporations and government to look after everyone's health and wellbeing. Bottom line: It is in their best interest as we pay for taxes and products.

We've received lots (and I mean lots) of informative resources from our FFF member, Gerry Canary. Thank you so much Gerry, and please keep them coming, we are all grateful for your research. So, I've summed them up by directing you to the links that give us so much knowledge:

Yup, the link above is one web address. So if you can't link directly, just high-lite the whole thing and copy it into your web browser.

I personally subscribe to the Women's Voices website (some links below) which is doing so much in the United States, that it is not trickling but flooding our country's scientific research. Surely, the rest of the world is interested in all the victories to date, since technology is moving everything so much faster.
